A Latin Grammar for Schools and Colleges

By A. HARKNESS, PH.D., Professor in Brown University.

To explain the general plan of the work, the Publishers ask the attention of teachers to the following extracts from the Preface :

1. This volume is designed to present a systematic arrangement of the great facts and laws of the Latin language ; to exhibit not only grammatical forms and constructions, but also those vital principles which underlie, control, and explain them.

2. Designed at once as a text-book for the class-room, and a book of reference in study, it aims to introduce the beginner easily and pleasantly to the first principles of the language, and yet to make adequate provision for the wants of the more advanced student.

3. By brevity and conciseness in the choice of phraseology and compactness in the arrangement of forms and topics, the author has endeavored to compress within the limits of a convenient manual an amount of carefully-selected grammatical facts, which would otherwise fill a much larger volume.

4. He has, moreover, endeavored to present the whole subject in the light of modern scholarship. Without encumbering his pages with any unnecessary discussions, he has aimed to enrich them with the practical results of the recent labors in the field of philology.

5. Syntax has received in every part special attention. An attempt has been made to exhibit, as clearly as possible, that beautiful system of laws which the genius of the language—that highest of all grammatical authority—has created for itself.

6. Topics which require extended illustration are first presented in their completeness in general outline, before the separate points are discussed in detail. Thus a single page often foreshadows all the leading features of an extended discussion, imparting a completeness and vividness to the impression of the learner, impossible under any other treatment.

7. Special care has been taken to explain and illustrate with the requisite fulness all difficult and intricate subjects. The Subjunctive Mood—that severest trial of the teacher's patience—has been presented, it is hoped, in a form at once simple and comprehensive.

THE volume now offered to the public is intended to furnish the pupil his first lessons in Latin. As an Elementary Drill-book, it aims to supply a want long felt in our schools. In no stage of a course of classical study is judicious instruction of more vital importance than in that which deals with the forms and elements of the Latin language. To the beginner, every thing is new, and requires minute and careful illustration. He must at the very outset become so familiar with all the grammatical inflections, with their exact form and force, that he will recognize them with promptness and certainty wherever they occur. He must not lose time in uncertain conjecture, where positive knowledge alone will be of any real value. Improvement on this point is one of the pressing needs of our schools. This volume is intended as a contribution to classical education in aid of this particular work. It aims to lighten the burden of the teacher in elementary drill, and to aid him in grounding his pupils in the first elements of the Latin language.

It is the unmistakable verdict of the class-room, that theory and practice must not be separated in the study of language. The true method of instruction will make ample provision for both. On the one hand, the pupil must, by a vigorous use of the memory, become master of all the grammatical forms and rules; while, on the other hand, he must not be denied the luxury of using the knowledge which he is so laboriously acquiring.

To this just and urgent demand of the class-room, the author's First Latin Book, published fifteen years since, on the basis of Dr. Arnold's works, owed its origin. For the favor with which it was received, and for the generous interest with which it has so long been regarded, the author desires here to express his sincere thanks to the numerous classical instructors whose fidelity in its use has contributed so largely to its success. In the conviction, however, that it has now done its appointed work, he begs leave to offer them the present volume as its successor.

The great objection to most First Latin Books, that, however excellent they may be in themselves, they are not especially adapted to any particular Grammar, and that they accordingly fill the memory of the pupil with rules and statements which must, as far as possible, be unlearned as soon as he passes to his Grammar, is entirely obviated in this volume. All the grammatical portions of it, even to the numbering of the articles, are introduced in the exact form and language of the author's Grammar. Indeed, the paradigms are not only the same as in the Grammar, but also occupy the same place on the page; so that even the local associations which the beginner so readily forms with the pages of his first book may be transferred directly to the Grammar.

This work is intended to be complete in itself. It comprises a distinct outline of Latin Grammar, Exercises for Double Translation, Suggestions to the Learner, Notes and Vocabularies. As an Introduction to the author's Grammar, Reader and Latin Composition, it discusses and illustrates precisely those points which are deemed most essential as a preparation for the course of study presented in those works.

INTRODUCTORY LATIN BOOK.

1. LATIN GRAMMAR treats of the principles of the Latin language.

PART FIRST.

ORTHOGRAPHY.¹

ALPHABET.

2. THE Latin alphabet is the same as the English, with the omission of w.

3. Classes of Letters.—Letters are divided into two classes :

- | | | |
|-------------------------------------|-----------|-------------------|
| I. Vowels | | a, e, i, o, u, y. |
| II. Consonants : — | | |
| 1. Liquids | | l, m, n, r. |
| 2. Spirants | | h, s. |
| 3. Mutes : 1) Labials | | p, b, f, v. |
| 2) Palatals | | c, g, k, q, j. |
| 3) Linguals | | t, d. |
| 4. Double Consonants | | x, z. |

4. Combinations of Letters.—We notice here,

1. Diphthongs, — combinations of two vowels in one syllable. The most common are ae, oe, au.

2. Double Consonants, — x = cs or gs ; z = ds or ts.

3. Ch, ph, th, are best treated, not as combinations of letters, but only as aspirated forms of c, p, and t, as h is only a breathing.

SOUNDS OF LETTERS.

5. Scholars in different countries generally pronounce Latin substantially as they do their own languages. In this country, however, two distinct systems are recognized, generally known as the English and the Continental Method.¹ For the convenience of the instructor, we add a brief outline of each.

I. ENGLISH METHOD.

1. Sounds of Vowels.

6. Vowels generally have their long or short English sounds.

7. Long Sound.—Vowels have their long English sounds—a as in fate, e in mete, i in pine, o in note, u in tube, y in type—in the following situations:

1. In final syllables ending in a vowel:² se, si, ser'-vi, ser'-vo, cor'-nu, mi'-sy.

2. In all syllables before a vowel or diphthong: de'-us, de-o'-rum, de'-ae, di-e'-i, ni'-hi-lum.³

3. In penultimate⁴ and unaccented syllables, not final, before a single consonant, or a mute with l or r: pa'-ter, pa'-tres, A'-thos, O'-thrys, do-lo'-ris. But

1) A unaccented has the sound of a final in America: men'-sa.

8. Short Sound.—Vowels have the short English sound—a as in fat, e in met, i in pin, o in not, u in tub, y in myth—in the following situations:

¹ Strictly speaking, there is no Continental Method, as every nation on the continent of Europe has its own method.

² Some give to i in both syllables of tibi and sibi the short sound.

³ In these rules, no account is taken of h, as that is only a breathing: hence the first i in nihilum is treated as a vowel before another vowel: for the same reason, ch, ph, and th are treated as single mutes; thus th in Athos and Othrys.

⁴ Penultimate, the last syllable but one.

1. In final syllables ending in a consonant: a'-mat, a'-met, rex'-it, sol, con'-sul, Te'-thys; except post, es final, and os final in plural cases: res, di'-es, hos, a'-gros.

2. In all syllables before x, or any two consonants except a mute with l or r (7, 3): rex'-it, bel'-lum, rex-e'-runt, bel-lo'-rum.

3. In all accented syllables before one or more consonants, except the penultimate: dom'-i-nus, pat'-ri-bus. But

1) A, e, or o, before a single consonant (or a mute with l or r) followed by e, i, or y, before another vowel, has the long sound: a'-ci-es, a'-cri-a, me'-re-o, do'-ce-o.

2) U, in any syllable not final, before a single consonant, or a mute with l or r, except bl, has the long sound: Pu'-ni-cus, sa-lu'-bri-tas.

2. Sounds of Diphthongs.

9. Ae and oe are pronounced like e:

1) long: Cae'-sar (Ce'-sar), Oe'-ta (E'-ta).

2) short: Daed'-a-lus (Ded'-a-lus), Oed'-i-pus.

Au as in author: au'-rum.

Eu . . neuter: neu'-ter.¹

EXERCISE I.

Give the sounds of the Vowels and Diphthongs in the following words.

1. Men'-sam,² men'-sas, men'-sis, men'-sae,³ men-sa'-rum.⁴

2. Ho'-ram,⁵ ho'-ras, ho'-ris, ho'-rae,⁶ ho-ra'-rum.⁷ 3. Scho'-la,⁸ scho'-lam, scho'-las, scho'-lis, scho'-lae, scho-la'-rum.

4. Co-ro'-na,⁸ co-ro'-nam, co-ro'-nas, co-ro'-nis, co-ro'-nae.⁹

¹ Ei and oi are seldom diphthongs; but, when so used, they have the long sound of i: hei, cui.

² 8, 2; 8, 1.

⁵ 7, 3; 8, 1.

⁸ 7, 3; 7, 3, 1).

³ 8, 2; 9; 7, 1.

⁶ 7, 3; 9; 7, 1

⁹ 7, 3; 9; 7, 1.

⁴ 8, 2; 7, 3; 8, 1.

⁷ 7, 3; 8, 1.

3. Sounds of Consonants.

10. The consonants are pronounced in general as in English; but a few directions may aid the learner.

11. C, G, S, T, and X are generally pronounced with their ordinary English sounds. Thus,

1. C and g are soft (like s and j) before e, i, y, ae, and oe; and hard in other situations: ce'-do (sedo), ci'-vis, Cy'-rus, cae'-do, coe'-na, a'-ge (a-je), a'-gi; ca'-do (ka'do), co'-go, cum, Ga'-des.

2. S generally has its regular English sound as in son, thus: sa'-cer, so'-ror, si'-dus. But

1) S final after e, ae, au, b, m, n, r, is pronounced like z: spes, praes, laus, urbs, hi'-ems, mons, pars.

3. T has its regular English sound as in time: ti'-mor, to'-tus.

4. X has generally its regular English sound like ks: rex'-i (rek'-si), ux'-or (uk'-sor).

12. C, S, T, and X — Aspirated. — Before i, preceded by an accented syllable and followed by a vowel, c, s, t, and x are aspirated, — c, s, and t taking the sound of sh, x that of ksh: so'-ci-us (so'-she-us), Al'-si-um (Al'-she-um), ar'-ti-um (ar'-she-um); anæ'-i-us (ank'-she-us). C has also the sound of sh before eu and yo, preceded by an accented syllable: ca-du'-ce-us (ca-du'-she-us), Sic'-y-on (Sish'-e-on).

13. Silent Consonants. — An initial consonant, with or without the aspirate h, is sometimes silent: Cne'-us (Ne'-us).

EXERCISE II.

Give the sounds of the Letters in the following words.

1. Ci'-vis,¹ civ'-i-um, civ'-i-bus. 2. Car'-men,² car'-mi-nis, car'-mi-ne.³ 3. Rex,⁴ re'-gis,⁵ re'-gi, re'-gum.⁵ 4. Ca'-put,⁶ cap'-i-tis, cap'-i-tum. 5. A'-ci-em,⁷ a'-ci-e, a'-ci-es.⁸ 6. Ars,⁸ ar'-tis, ar'-tes,⁸ ar'-ti-um.⁹

¹ 11, 1 and 2; 7, 3; 8, 1.

² 11, 1; 8, 2; 8, 1.

³ 8, 3; 7, 3; 7, 1.

⁶ 11, 1, and 3.

⁷ 8, 3, 1); 12; 8, 1.

⁸ 11, 2, 1).

⁹ 12.

II. CONTINENTAL METHOD.¹

1. Sounds of Vowels.

14. Each vowel has in the main one uniform sound;² but the length or duration of the sound depends upon the quantity of the vowel. See 20.

The vowel-sounds are as follows :

a	like	ä	in	father :	e.g.,	a'-ra .
e	"	ā		made :	"	ple'-bes .
i	"	ē		me :	"	i'-ri .
o	"	ō		no :	"	o'-ro .
u	"	ô		do :	"	u'-num .
y	"	ē		me ;	"	Ny'-sa .

2. Sounds of Diphthongs.

15. Ae and oe like a in made : e.g., ae'-tas, coe'-lum.

au " ou " out : " au'-rum.³

3. Sounds of Consonants.

16. The pronunciation of the consonants is similar to that of the English method ; but it varies somewhat in different countries.

EXERCISE III.

Give the sounds of the Letters in the following words, according to the Continental Method.

1. Hō'-ră, hō'-răm, hō'-rās, hō'-rīs, hō'-rae, hō-ră'-rūm.
2. Glō'-rĭ-ă, glō'-rĭ-ăm, glō'-rĭ-ae. 3. Dō'-nūm, dō'-nī, dō'-

¹ If the English Method is adopted as the standard in the school, this outline of the Continental Method should be omitted.

² These sounds sometimes undergo slight modifications in uniting with the various consonants.

nē, dō'-nā, dō-nō'-rūm, dō'-nis. 4. Cī'-vīs, cī'-vī, cī'-vēm, cī'-vēs, cīv'-ī-ūm, cīv'-ī-būs.

SYLLABLES.

17. In the pronunciation of Latin, every word has as many syllables as it has vowels and diphthongs; thus the Latin words more, vice, acute, and persuade are pronounced, not as the same words are in English, but with their vowel-sounds all heard in separate syllables; thus: mo'-re, vi'-ce, a-cu'-te, per-sua'-de.

QUANTITY.

20. Syllables are, in quantity or length, either long, short, or common.¹

21. Long. — A syllable is long in quantity,

1. If it contains a diphthong: haec.

2. If its vowel is followed by j, x, z, or any two consonants, except a mute with l or r: rex, mons.

22. Short. — A syllable is short if its vowel is followed by another vowel or a diphthong: dī'-es, vi'-ae, nī'-hil.²

23. Common. — A syllable is common, if its vowel, naturally³ short, is followed by a mute with l or r: a'-gri.

24. The signs ¯, ˇ, ˘, denote respectively that the syllables over which they are placed are long, short, or common: ā-grō-rūm.⁴

¹ Common; i.e., sometimes long, and sometimes short.

² No account is taken of the breathing h. See 7, 2, note 3.

³ A vowel is said to be naturally short when it is short in its own nature; i.e., in itself, without reference to its position.

⁴ By referring to 14, it will be seen, that, in the Continental Method, quantity and sound coincide with each other: a vowel long in quantity is long in sound, and a vowel short in quantity is short in sound. But, by referring to 7 and 8, it will be seen, that, in the English Method, the quantity of a vowel does not at all affect its sound, except in determining the accent (26). Hence, in this method, a vowel long in quantity is often short in sound, and a vowel short in quantity is often long in sound. Thus, in rēx, ūrbis, ārs, sōl, the vowels are all long in quantity;

ACCENTUATION.

I. PRIMARY ACCENT.

25. Monosyllables are treated as accented syllables:
mons, nos.

26. Other words are accented as follows:¹

1. Words of two syllables — always on the first: men'-sa.
2. Words of more than two syllables — on the penult² if that is long in quantity, otherwise on the antepenult:² ho-nō'-ris, con'-sū-lis.

II. SECONDARY ACCENTS.

27. A second accent is placed on the second or third syllable before the primary accent, — on the second, if that is the first syllable of the word, or is long in quantity; otherwise on the third: mon'-u-e'-runt, mon'-u-e-ra'-mus, in-stau'-ra-ve'-runt.

28. In the same way, a third accent is placed on the second or third syllable before the second accent: hon'-o-rif'-i-cen-tis'-sī-mus.

EXERCISE IV.

Accent and pronounce the following Words.

1. Cōrōnă,³ cōrōnae, cōrōnārūm.⁴
2. Gemmae,⁵ gemmām, gemmārūm.
3. Sāpientiae,⁶ āmīcītiaē, justītiaē, glōriaē.⁷

but by 8, 1, they all have the short English sounds: while in āvě, mǎrě, the vowels are all short in quantity; but by 7, 1, and 3, they all have the long English sounds. Hence, in pronouncing according to the English Method, determine the place of the accent by the quantity (according to 26), and then determine the sounds of the letters irrespective of quantity (according to 7-12).

¹ In the subsequent pages, the pupil will be expected to accent words in pronunciation according to these rules. The quantity of the penult in words of more than two syllables will therefore be marked (unless determined by 21 and 22), to enable him to ascertain the place of the accent.

² Penult, last syllable but one; antepenult, the last but two.

³ 26, 2; 7, 3, 1).

⁵ 11, 1; 26, 1.

⁷ 11, 1; 8, 3, 1).

⁴ 26, 2; 27.

⁶ 27; 8, 3, 1); 12.

4. Săpientiām, ămīcītiām, justītiām, glōriām. 5. Săpientiă, ămīcītiă, justītiă, glōriă.

PART SECOND.

ETYMOLOGY.

29. ETYMOLOGY treats of the classification, inflection, and derivation of words.

30. The Parts of Speech¹ are — Nouns, Adjectives, Pronouns, Verbs, Adverbs, Prepositions, Conjunctions, and Interjections.

CHAPTER I.

NOUNS.

31. A Noun, or Substantive, is a name, as of a person, place, or thing: Cicĕro, Cicero; Rōma, Rome; puer, boy; dōmus, house.

1. A Proper Noun is a proper name, as of a person or place: Cicĕro, Rōma.

2. A Common Noun is a name common to all the members of a class of objects: vir, man; ĕquus, horse.

32. Nouns have Gender, Number, Person, and Case.

GENDER.

33. There are three genders,² — Masculine, Feminine, and Neuter.

¹ Thus in Latin, as in English, words are divided, according to their use, into eight classes, called Parts of Speech.

² In English, Gender denotes sex. Accordingly, masculine nouns denote males; feminine nouns, females; and neuter nouns, objects which are neither male nor female. In Latin, however, this natural distinction

34. In some nouns, gender is determined by signification; in others, by endings.

35. GENERAL RULES FOR GENDER.

I. MASCULINES.

1. Names of Males: Cicero; vir, man; rex, king.

2. Names of Rivers, Winds, and Months: Rhēnus, Rhine; Nōtus, south wind; Aprīlis, April.

II. FEMININE.

1. Names of Females: mulier, woman; leaena, lioness.

2. Names of Countries, Towns, Islands, and Trees: Aegyptus, Egypt; Rōma, Rome; Dēlos, Delos; pīrus, pear-tree.

PERSON AND NUMBER.

37. The Latin, like the English, has three persons and two numbers. The first person denotes the speaker; the second, the person spoken to; the third, the person spoken of. The singular number denotes one, the plural more than one.

CASES.

38. The Latin has six cases:¹

Names.	English Equivalents.
Nominative,	Nominative.
Genitive,	Possessive, or Objective with of .
Dative,	Objective with to or for .
Accusative,	Objective.
Vocative,	Nominative Independent.
Ablative,	Objective with from , by , in , with .

of gender is applied only to the names of males and females; while, in all other nouns, gender depends upon an artificial distinction, according to grammatical rules.

¹ The case of a noun shows the relation which that noun sustains to other words; as, John's book. Here the possessive case (John's) shows that John sustains to the book the relation of possessor.

1. Oblique Cases.—In distinction from the Nominative and Vocative (casus recti, right cases), the other cases are called oblique (casus obliqui).

2. Case-Endings.—In form, the several cases are, in general, distinguished from each other by certain terminations called case-endings: Nom. mensa, Gen. mensae, &c.

3. Cases alike.—But certain cases are not distinguished in form. Thus,

1) The Nominative, Accusative, and Vocative, in neuters, are alike, and in the plural end in a.

2) The Nominative and Vocative are alike in all nouns, except those in us of the second declension (45).

3) The Dative and Ablative Plural are alike.

DECLENSIONS.

39. The formation of the several cases is called Declension.

40. Five Declensions.—In Latin, there are five declensions, distinguished from each other by the following Genitive Endings.

Dec. I.	Dec. II.	Dec. III.	Dec. IV.	Dec. V.
ae,	ī,	īs,	ūs,	eī.¹

41. Stem and Endings.—In any noun, of whatever declension,

1. The stem² may be found by dropping the ending of the genitive singular.

2. The several cases may be formed by adding to this stem the case-endings.

² The stem is the basis of the word, or the part to which the several endings are added to form the various cases. Thus in the forms, mensā, mensae, mensām, mensīs, &c., given under 42, it will be observed that mens remains unchanged; and that, by the addition of the endings, a, ae, am, is, &c., to it, the several cases are formed. Here mens is the stem; and a, ae, am, is, &c., are the case-endings.

FIRST DECLENSION.

42. Nouns of the first declension end in

ă and ě, — feminine; ās and ēs, — masculine.¹

But pure Latin nouns end only in a, and are declined as follows:

SINGULAR.

Nom.	mensă,	a table,	ă
Gen.	mensae,	of a table,	ae
Dat.	mensae,	to, for, a table,	ae
Acc.	mensă,	a table,	ăm
Voc.	mensă,	O table,	ă
Abl.	mensă,	with, from, by, a table,	ă

PLURAL.

Nom.	mensae,	tables,	ae
Gen.	ensărū,	of tables,	ărū
Dat.	ensīs,	to, for, tables,	īs
Acc.	ensās,	tables,	ās
Voc.	ensae,	O tables,	ae
Abl.	ensīs,	with, from, by, tables,	īs.

1. Case-Endings. — From an inspection of this example, it will be seen that the several cases are distinguished from each other by the case-endings placed on the right.

2. Examples for Practice. — With these endings decline:

Ala, wing; ăqua, water; causa, cause; fortūna, fortune; porta, gate; victōria, victory.

EXERCISE V.

I. Vocabulary.

Amicitia,	ae, ² f. ³	friendship.
Corōnă,	ae, f.	crown.

¹ That is, nouns of this declension in a and e are feminine, and those in as and es are masculine.

² The ending ae is the case-ending of the Genitive: amicitia; Gen., amicitiæ.

³ Gender is indicated in the vocabularies by m. for masculine, f. for feminine, and n. for neuter.

Gemmă	ae, f.	gem.
Glōriă,	ae, f.	glory.
Hōră,	ae, f.	hour.
Justitiă,	ae, f.	justice.
Săpientiă,	ae, f.	wisdom.
Schōlă,	ae, f.	school.

II. Translate into English.

1. Corōnă,¹ corōnă, corōnae,² corōnam, coronārum, corōnis, corōnas. 2. Gemmă, gemmă, gemmae, gemmam, gemmārum, gemmis, gemmas. 3. Sapientiă, amicitia, justitiă, gloriă. 4. Sapientiam, amicitiam, justitiam, gloriam. 5. Sapientiă, amicitia, justitiă, gloriă. 6. Scholārum, horārum. 7. Scholis, horis. 8. Scholas, horas.

III. Translate into Latin.

1. Friendship, friendships. 2. Of³ friendship, of friendships. 3. To friendship, to friendships. 4. By friendship, by friendships. 5. Justice, by justice, of justice, to justice. 6. Wisdom, glory. 7. With wisdom, with glory. 8. To wisdom, to glory. 9. Of wisdom, of glory. 10. Of a⁴ crown, of a gem. 11. Crowns, gems. 12. With the⁴ crowns, with the gems. 13. Of crowns, of gems.

¹ As the Latin has no article, a noun may, according to the connection in which it is used, be translated (1) without the article; as, corōnă, crown; (2) with the indefinite article a or an; as, corōna, a crown; (3) with the definite article the: as, corōna, the crown.

² When the same Latin form may be found in two or more cases, the pupil is expected to give the meaning for each case. Thus corōnae may be in the Genitive or Dative Singular, or in the Nominative or Vocative Plural.

⁴ The pupil will remember that the English articles, a, an, and the, are not to be rendered into Latin at all. Crown, a crown, and the crown, are all rendered into Latin by the same word.

SECOND DECLENSION.

45. Nouns of the second declension end in ēr, ĭr, ūs, os, — masculine; ŭm, on, — neuter.

But pure Latin nouns end only in er, ir, us, um, and are declined as follows:

Servus, slave. Puer, boy. Ager, field. Templum, temple.

SINGULAR.

N. serv ŭs	puēr	ăġēr	templ ŭm
G. serv ī	puēr ī	ăġr ī	templ ī
D. serv ō	puēr ō	ăġr ō	templ ō
A. serv ŭm	puēr ŭm	ăġr ŭm	templ ŭm
V. serv ē	puēr	ăġēr	templ ŭm
A. serv ō	puēr ō	ăġr ō	templ ō

PLURAL.

N. serv ī	puēr ī	ăġr ī	templ ă
G. serv ōrŭm	puēr ōrŭm	ăġr ōrŭm	templ ōrŭm
D. serv īs	puēr īs	ăġr īs	templ īs
A. serv ōs	puēr ōs	ăġr ōs	templ ă
V. serv ī	puēr ī	ăġr ī	templ ă
A. serv īs.	puēr īs.	ăġr īs.	templ īs.

1. Case-Endings. — From an inspection of the paradigms, it will be seen that they are declined with the following

Case-endings.

1. ūs. 2. ěr. 3. ŭm.

SINGULAR.

N. ūs	— ¹	ŭm
G. ĭ	ī	ī
D. ō	ō	ō
A. ŭm	ŭm	ŭm
V. ě	— ¹	ŭm
A. ō	ō	ō

¹ The endings for the Nom. and Voc. Sing. are wanting in nouns in er: thus puer is the stem without any case-ending; the full form would be puērŭs.

	PLURAL.
N. ī	ī	ă
G. ōrŭm	ōrŭm	ōrŭm
D. īs	īs	īs
A. ōs	ōs	ă
V. ī	ī	ă
A. īs.	īs.	īs.

2. Examples for Practice. — Like SERVUS: annus, year; dominus, master. — Like PUER: gēner, son-in-law; sōcer, father-in-law. — Like AGER: fāber, artisan; magister, master. — Like TEMPLUM: bellum, war; regnum, kingdom.

3. Paradigms. — Observe

1) That puer differs in declension from servus only in dropping the endings us and e in the Nom. and Voc.: Nom. puer for puērus, Voc. puer for puēre.

2) That ager differs from puer only in dropping e before r.

3) That templum, as a neuter noun, has the Nom., Accus., and Voc. alike, ending in the plural in a. See 38, 3.

SECOND DECLENSION — CONTINUED.

RULE II. — Appositives.

363. An Appositive agrees with its Subject in CASE: ¹

Cluilius rex moritur, Cluilius the king dies. Liv. Urbes Carthago atque Numantia, the cities Carthage and Numantia. Cic.

I. DIRECTIONS FOR PARSING.

In parsing a Noun, Adjective, or Pronoun,

1. Name the Part of Speech to which it belongs.
2. Decline ² it.
3. Give its Gender, Number, Case, &c.
4. Give its Syntax, ³ and the Rule for it.

¹ A noun or pronoun used to explain or identify another noun or pronoun, denoting the same person or thing, is called an appositive; as, Cluilius rex, Cluilius the king. Here rex, the king, is the appositive, showing the rank or office of Cluilius, — Cluilius the king. The noun or pronoun to which the appositive is added — Cluilius in the example — is called the subject of the appositive.

² Adjectives in the Comparative or in the Superlative degree (160) should also be compared (162).

MODEL.

Artēmisiā rēgīnā, Artemisia the queen.

Regīna is a noun (31) of the First Declension (42), as it has ae in the Genitive Singular (40); STEM, regīn (41). Singular: regīna, regīnae, regīnae, regīnam, regīnā, regīnā. Plural: regīnae, regīnārum, regīnis, regīnas, regīnae, regīnis. It is of the Feminine gender, as the names of females are feminine by 35, II. 1. It is in the Nominative Singular, in apposition with its subject Artemisia, with which it agrees in case, according to Rule II.: "An Appositive agrees with its Subject in CASE."

THIRD DECLENSION.

48. Nouns of the third declension end in a, e, i, o, y, c, l, n, r, s, t, x.

I. MASCULINE ENDINGS:²

o, or, os, er, es increasing in the genitive.

II. Nouns which have no case-ending in the Nominative Singular.

In Class II., the Nom. Sing. is either the same as the stem, or is formed from it by dropping or changing one or more letters of the stem: consul, Gen. consūlis; stem, consul, a consul: leo, leōnis; stem, leon (Nom. drops n), lion: carmen, carminis; stem, carmīn (Nom. changes in to en), song.

52. Case-Endings. — From an inspection of the paradigms, it will be seen,

1. That the nouns belonging to Class II. differ from those of Class I. only in taking no case-ending in the Nominative and Vocative Singular.

2. That all nouns of both classes are declined with the following

Case-Endings.

Abl. ĭbŭs.	ĭbŭs.

53. Declension. — To apply these endings in declension, we must know, besides the Nominative Singular,

1. The Gender, as that shows which set of endings must be used.

2. The Genitive Singular (or some oblique case), as that contains the stem (41) to which these endings must be added.

¹ In nouns in x (= cs or gs), s is the case-ending, and the c or g belongs to the stem.

² The dash here implies that the case-ending is sometimes wanting, as in all nouns of Class II.

³ The enclosed endings are less common than the others.

54. EXAMPLES FOR PRACTICE:

Class I.

Rūpes,	Gen. rupis, f.	rock;	hospes,	Gen. hospitis, m.	guest.

RULE XVI — Genitive.

395. Any Noun, not an Appositive, qualifying the meaning of another noun, is put in the Genitive:¹

Cātōnis orātiōnes, Cato's orations. Cic. Castra hostium, the camp of the enemy. Liv. Mors Hāmilcāris, the death of Hamilcar. Liv.

MODEL FOR PARSING.

Cātōnis orātiōnēs, Cato's orations.

Cātōnis is a proper noun, as it is the name of a person (31, 1). It is of the Third Declension, as it has is in the Genitive Singular (40); of Class II., as it has no Nominative Ending (49, II. and 51, II.): STEM, Cātōn (41); Nom. Cato (n dropped, 49, II.). Singu-

¹ The Appositive (363, p. 15) and this qualifying Genitive resemble each other in the fact that they both qualify the meaning of another noun: Cluilius rex, Cluilius the king; Cātōnis oratiōnes, Cato's orations, or the orations of Cato. Here the Appositive rex qualifies, or limits, the meaning of Cluilius by showing what Cluilius is meant, — Cluilius the king. In a similar manner, the Genitive Cātōnis qualifies, or limits, the meaning of oratiōnes by showing what orations are meant, — the orations of Cato. Yet the Appositive and the Genitive are readily distinguished by the fact that the former qualifies a noun denoting the same person or lar:¹ Cato, Catōnis, Catōni, Catōnem, Cato, Catōne. It is of the Masculine gender, as the names of males are masculine by 35, I. 1. It is in the Genitive Singular, depending upon orātiōnes, according to Rule XVI.: “Any noun, not an Appositive, qualifying the meaning of another noun, is put in the Genitive.”

thing as itself, while the Genitive qualifies a noun denoting a different person or thing. Thus, in the examples above, Cluilius and the Appositive rex denote the same person; while orātiōnes and the Genitive Catōnis denote entirely different objects.

¹ As Cato is the name of a person, the Plural is seldom used.

² This exercise furnishes practice in the declension of nouns belonging to Class I. of the Third Declension. See 50.

³ Regis is in the Genitive, and qualifies the meaning of mors, according to Rule XVI. 395.

PREPOSITIONS.

RULE XXXII. — Cases with Prepositions.

432. The Accusative and Ablative may be used with Prepositions.²

Ad amicum scripsi, I have written to a friend. Cic. In cūriam, into the senate-house. Liv. In Itāliā,³ in Italy. Nep. Pro castris, before the camp.

MODEL FOR PARSING.

Ad amicūm, To a friend.

Amicum is a noun (31) of the Second Declension (45), as it has i in the Genitive Singular (40); STEM, amīc (41). Singular: amīcus, amīci, amīco, amīcum, amīce, amīco. Plural: amīci, amīcōrum, amīcis, amīcos, amīci, amīcis. It is of the Masculine gender by 45, is in the Accusative Singular, and is used with the preposition ad, according to Rule XXXII.: "The Accusative and Ablative may be used with Prepositions." The Accusative is used with ad.

¹ The Latin word for of the state will be in the Genitive, according to Rule XVI. 395.

² The Preposition is the part of speech which shows the relations of objects to each other: in Italia esse, to be in Italy; ante me, before me. Here in and ante are prepositions. In the Vocabularies, each preposition, as it occurs, will be marked as such; and the case which may be used with it will be specified. It has not been thought advisable at this early stage of the course to burden the memory of the learner with a list of prepositions and their cases.

³ Here the Ablative Italia is used with in; though, in the second example, the Accusative cūriam is used with the same preposition. The rule is, that the Latin preposition in is used with the Accusative when it means into, and with the Ablative when it means in.

CHAPTER II.

ADJECTIVES.

146. The adjective is that part of speech which is used to qualify nouns: bōnus, good; magnus, great.

The form of the adjective in Latin depends in part upon the gender of the noun which it qualifies; bonus puer, a good boy; bona puella, a good girl; bonum tectum, a good house. Thus bonus is the form of the adjective when used with masculine nouns, bona with feminine, and bonum with neuter.

147. Some adjectives are partly of the first declension and partly of the second, while all the rest are entirely of the third declension.

I. FIRST AND SECOND DECLENSIONS.

COMPARISON OF ADJECTIVES.

160. Adjectives have three forms to denote different degrees of quality. They are usually called the Positive, the Comparative, and the Superlative degree: altus, altior, altissimus,¹ high, higher, highest.

Comparatives and superlatives are sometimes best rendered into English by too and very, instead of more and most: doctus, learned; doctior, more learned, or too learned; doctissimus, most learned, or very learned.

161. The Latin, like the English, has two modes of comparison:

I. Terminational Comparison — by endings.

II. Adverbial Comparison — by adverbs.

I. TERMINATIONAL COMPARISON.

162. Adjectives are regularly compared by adding to the stem of the positive the endings:

Comparative.			Superlative.
M.	F.	N.	M.	F.	N.
iōr,	iōr,	iūs.	issimŭs,	issimă,	issimŭm.

¹ Each of these forms of the adjective is declined. Thus altus and altissimus are declined like bonus, 148: altus, a, um; alti, ae, i, etc.; altissimus, a, um; altissimi, ae, i, etc. Altior is declined like tristior, 152: altior, altius; altiōris, etc.

EXAMPLES.

Altus, altior, altissimus: high, higher, highest.
lēvis, levior, levissimus: light, lighter, lightest.

II. ADVERBIAL COMPARISON.

170. Adjectives which want the terminational comparison form the comparative and superlative, when their signification requires it, by prefixing the adverbs māgis, more, and maxīme, most, to the positive:

Arduus, māgis arduus, maxīme arduus.
Arduous, more arduous, most arduous.

MODEL FOR PARSING.

VI. INDEFINITE PRONOUNS.

189. Indefinite Pronouns do not refer to any definite persons or things. The most important are Quis and qui, with their compounds.

190. Quis, any one, qui, any one, any, are the same in form and declension as the interrogatives quis and qui.¹

191. From quis and qui are formed

I. The Indefinites :

aliquis,	aliqua,	aliquid	or aliquod,	some, some one.
quispiam,	quaepiam,	quidpiam	or quodpiam,	some, some one.
quidam,	quaedam,	quiddam	or quoddam,	certain, certain one.
quisquam,		quidquam,		any one.

¹ But after si, nisi, ne, and num, the Feminine Singular and the Neuter Plural have quae or qua ; si quae, si qua. In like manner, aliquis has aliqua in the Feminine Singular and in the Neuter Plural.

II. The General Indefinites:

CHAPTER IV.

VERBS.

192. Verbs in Latin, as in English, express existence, condition, or action: est, he is; dormit, he is sleeping; lęgit, he reads.

193. Verbs comprise two principal classes:

I. TRANSITIVE VERBS, — which admit a direct object of their action: *servum*¹ verbęrat, he beats the slave.

II. INTRANSITIVE VERBS, — which do not admit such an object: puer currit, the boy runs.

194. Verbs have Voice, Mood, Tense, Number, and Person.

I. VOICES.

195. There are two Voices:²

I. THE ACTIVE VOICE, — which represents the subject as acting or existing: păter filium amat, the father loves his son; est, he is.

² Voice shows whether the subject acts (Active Voice), or is acted upon (Passive Voice).

II. THE PASSIVE VOICE, — which represents the subject as acted upon by some other person or thing: filius a patre amātur, the son is loved by his father.

II. MOODS.

196. Moods¹ are either Definite or Indefinite:

I. The Definite or Finite Moods make up the Finite Verb; they are:

1. The INDICATIVE MOOD, — which either asserts something as a fact, or inquires after the fact: lēgit, he is reading; legitne, is he reading?

2. THE SUBJUNCTIVE MOOD, — which expresses, not an actual fact, but a possibility or conception, often rendered by may, can, etc.: lēgat, he may read, let him read.

3. The IMPERATIVE MOOD, — which expresses a command or an entreaty: lēge, read thou.

II. The Indefinite Moods express the meaning of the verb in the form of nouns or adjectives; they are:

1. The INFINITIVE, — which, like the English Infinitive, gives the simple meaning of the verb, without any necessary reference to person or number: legĕre, to read.

2. The GERUND, — which gives the meaning of the verb in the form of a verbal noun of the second declension, used only in the genitive, dative, accusative, and ablative singular. It corresponds to the English participial noun in ING: amandi, of loving; amandi causā, for the sake of loving.

3. The SUPINE, — which gives the meaning of the verb in the form of a verbal noun of the fourth declension, used only in the accusative and ablative singular: amātum, to love, for loving; amātu, to be loved, in loving.

4. The PARTICIPLE, — which, like the English Participle, gives the meaning of the verb in the form of an adjective.

¹ Mood, or Mode, means manner, and relates to the manner in which the meaning of the verb is expressed, as will be seen by observing the force of the several Moods.

A Latin verb may have four participles: two in the Active, the Present and Future, — amans, loving; amatūrus, about to love: and two in the Passive, the Perfect and Future, — amātus, loved; amandus, deserving to be loved.

III. TENSES.

197. There are six tenses:¹

I. THREE TENSES FOR INCOMPLETE ACTION:

1. Present: amo, I love.
2. Imperfect: amābam, I was loving.
3. Future: amābo, I shall love.

II. THREE TENSES FOR COMPLETED ACTION:

1. Perfect: amāvi, I have loved, I loved.
2. Pluperfect: amavēram, I had loved.
3. Future Perfect: amavēro, I shall have loved.

198. REMARKS ON TENSES.

1. Present Perfect and Historical Perfect. — The Latin Perfect sometimes corresponds to our Perfect with have (have loved), and is called the Present Perfect, or Perfect Definite; and sometimes to our Imperfect or Past (loved), and is called the Historical Perfect, or Perfect Indefinite.

2. Principal and Historical. — Tenses are also distinguished as

1) Principal: — Present, Present Perfect, Future, and Future Perfect.

2) Historical: — Imperfect, Historical Perfect, and Pluperfect.

3. Tenses Wanting. — The Subjunctive wants the Future and Future Perfect; the Imperative has only the Present and Future; the Infinitive, only the Present, Perfect, and Future.

IV. NUMBERS.

199. There are two Numbers:² SINGULAR and PLURAL.

¹ Tense means time, and is employed to designate the time of an action or event.

² Number in verbs corresponds, it will be observed, to number in nouns. See 37.

V. PERSONS.

200. There are three Persons:¹ FIRST, SECOND, and THIRD.

CONJUGATION.

201. Regular verbs are inflected, or conjugated, in four different ways, and are accordingly divided into Four Conjugations, distinguished from each other by the

INFINITIVE ENDINGS.

Conj. I.	Conj. II.	Conj. III.	Conj. IV.
āre,	ēre,	ĕre,	īre.

202. Principal Parts. — Four forms of the verb — the Present Indicative, Present Infinitive, Perfect Indicative, and Supine² — are called, from their importance, the Principal Parts of the verb.

203. Entire Conjugation. — In any regular verb,

1. The VERB-STEM may be found by dropping the Infinitive Ending: amāre; stem, am.

2. The PRINCIPAL PARTS may be formed from this stem by means of proper endings.

3. The ENTIRE CONJUGATION of the verb through all its parts may be readily formed from these Principal Parts by means of the proper endings.³

¹ Person in verbs corresponds, it will be observed, to person in nouns. See 37.

² In the Active Voice, all these four forms are usually given as Principal Parts; but, in the Passive, only the first three.

³ In the Paradigms of regular verbs, the endings, both those which distinguish the Principal Parts and those which distinguish the forms derived from those parts, are separately indicated, and should be carefully noticed.

204. Sum, I am.

Sum is used as an auxiliary in the passive voice of regular verbs. Accordingly, its conjugation, though quite irregular, must be given at the outset.

¹ The Subjunctive is sometimes best rendered by let: sit, he may be, may he be, let him be.

² The Future is sometimes best rendered like the Present, or with let: esto, thou shalt be, or be thou ; suntō, they shall be, or let them be.

³ Futūrus is declined like bonus ; N. futūrus, a, um, G. futūri, ae, i ; so in the Infinitive : futūrus, a, um esse.

RULE XXXV.—Verb with Subject.

460. A Finite¹ Verb agrees with its Subject² in NUMBER and PERSON:

Deus mundum aedificāvit,³ God made the world. Cic. Ego rēges ejēci, vos tŷrannos intrōdūcītis, I have banished kings, you introduce tyrants. Cic.

1. PARTICIPLES IN COMPOUND TENSES.—These agree with the subject, according to Rule XXXIII. page 32:

Thēbāni accūsāti sunt,⁴ The Thebans were accused. Cic.

2. SUBJECT OMITTED.—The subject is generally omitted —

1) When it is a Personal Pronoun, or can be readily supplied from the context:

Discipūlos mōneo,⁵ ut stŷdia āment,⁶ I instruct pupils to love⁶ their studies. Quint.

² With the Active Voice of a Transitive Verb, the Subject represents the person (or thing, one or more) who performs the action; as, Deus in the first example, God made: but, with the Passive Voice, it represents the person (or thing, one or more) who receives the action, i.e. is acted upon, as, Thebāni, 460, 1: the Thebans were accused.

³ Aedificāvit is in the Third Person and in the Singular Number, because its subject deus is in that person and number. Ejēci is in the First Person Singular, to agree with its subject ego; and introducītis in the Second Person Plural, to agree with its subject vos.

⁴ The verb accūsāti sunt is in the Third Person Plural, to agree with its subject Thebāni, according to Rule XXXV.; but the participle accūsāti, which is one element of the verb, is in the Nominative Plural Masculine, to agree with its noun Thebāni, according to Rule XXXIII.

⁵ The subject of moneo is ego. It is omitted, because it is a Personal Pronoun, and is, accordingly, fully implied in the verb, as the ending eo shows, as we shall soon see, that the subject cannot be you, he, or they, but must be I.

Ut—ament means literally that they may love. The subject of ament is the pronoun ii, they, referring to discipūlos. It is omitted, partly because it is implied in the ending ent, but more especially because it can be so readily supplied from discipūlos, which shows who are here meant by they.

⁶ To love, or, more literally, that they may love.

The Pronoun may be expressed for emphasis or contrast, as in the second example under the rule.

I. DIRECTIONS FOR PARSING VERBS.

In parsing a verb,

1. Tell whether it is transitive or intransitive (193), name the Conjugation to which it belongs, give the Present Indicative Active and the Stem (203).
2. Give the Principal Parts (202), and inflect the tense in which the given form is found.¹
3. Give the voice, mood, tense, number, and person.
4. Name the subject, and give the Rule for agreement.

MODELS FOR PARSING THE VERB SUM.

1. Sum with Subject.

Nōs² ērāmūs, We were.

Erāmus is an intransitive irregular³ verb, from sum. Principal Parts: sum, esse, fui, — ⁴. Inflection of tense (Imperfect Indicative): eram, eras, erat, erāmus, erātis, erant. The form erāmus is found in the Indicative mood, Imperfect tense, First person, Plural number, and agrees with its subject nos, according to Rule XXXV.: “A Finite Verb agrees with its Subject in NUMBER and PERSON.”

2. *Sum without Subject.*⁵

Fuī, I have been.

Fui is an intransitive irregular verb, from sum. Principal Parts: sum, esse, fui. Inflection of tense (Perfect Indicative): fui, fuisti,

¹ That is, if the form occurs in a given tense of the Indicative, give the several forms for the different persons and numbers in that tense and mood. The teacher may also find it convenient to require the synopsis of the mood till the required tense is found.

² Nos is the Subject. With an intransitive verb, the Subject represents the person (or thing) who is in the condition, or state, denoted by the verb.

³ Hence it does not belong to either of the regular conjugations.

⁴ The Supine is wanting.

⁵ That is, without any subject expressed.

fuit ; fuimus, fuistis, fuērunt, or fuēre. The form fui is found in the Indicative mood, Perfect tense, First person, Singular number, and agrees with its subject ego omitted (though fully implied¹ in the ending i of fui), according to Rule XXXV.

EXERCISE XVII.

I. Translate into English.

1. Sum, sumus, sunt.² 2. Es, est, estis. 3. Eram, erāmus.² 4. Erat, erant. 5. Eris, eritis.² 6. Erit, erunt. 7. Fui, fuēram, fuēro. 8. Fuimus, fuerāmus, fuerimus. 9. Fuisti, fuistis. 10. Fuit, fuērunt. 11. Fuērat, fuērant. 12. Fuērit, fuērint. 13. Sim, simus. 14. Sit, sint. 15. Essem, essēmus. 16. Esset, essent. 17. Fuērim, fuisset. 18. Fuerimus, fuissēmus. 19. Fuērit, fuērint. 20. Fuisset, fuissent. 21. Es, este.

II. Translate into Latin.

1. He³ is, they³ are. 2. He has been, they have been. 3. He will be, they will be. 4. He was, they were. 5. He will have been, they will have been. 6. He had been, they had been. 7. I³ was, you were. 8. We have been, you have been. 9. You may be, they may be. 10. He would be, they would be. 11. I might have been, we might have been.

¹ See Rule XXXV., 2, together with the note.

² In parsing the forms contained in this Exercise, observe the second Model just given. If the verb is of the first person, supply, as subject, the personal pronoun (184) of the first person ; i.e., ego for the singular, and nos for the plural. If the verb is of the second person, supply the personal pronoun of the second person ; i.e., tu for the singular, and vos for the plural. If the verb is of the third person, supply the demonstrative pronoun is (186) for the singular, and ii for the plural, as the personal pronoun sui is not used in the Nominative : hence, ego sum, nos sumus, ii sunt.

³ The English pronouns in this Exercise are not to be rendered by the corresponding Latin pronouns, as the latter may be implied in the ending of the verb, as in the Latin forms above : hence, he is = est.

SUM WITH SUBJECT AND ADJECTIVE.

RULE III.—Subject Nominative.

367. The Subject of a Finite¹ Verb is put in the Nominative :

Servius² regnāvit, Servius reigned. Liv. Pātent portae, The gates are open. Cic. Rex vīcit, The king conquered. Liv.

1. The Subject is always a substantive, a pronoun, or some word or clause used substantively :

Ego rēges ejēci, I have banished kings. Cic.

2. SUBJECT OMITTED. See 460, 2 ; page 54.

MODEL FOR PARSING SUBJECTS.

Rex vīcit, The king conquered.

Rex is a noun (31) of the Third Declension, as it has is in the Genitive Singular (40) ; of Class I., as it has a nominative ending s ($x = g-s$, of which s is the ending, as g belongs to the stem. See 50, I. note) ; STEM, reg. Singular : rex, regis, regi, regem, rex, rege. Plural : reges, regum, regibus, reges, reges, regibus. It is of the Masculine gender, by 35, I. 1. ; is in the Nominative Singular ; and is the subject of vīcit, according to Rule III. : “ The Subject of a Finite Verb is put in the Nominative.”

EXERCISE XVIII.

I. Vocabulary.

Cătō, Cătōnis, m.	Cato , a distinguished Roman.
Crūdūs, ā, ūm,	unripe.
Diligens, Diligentis,	diligent.
Discipulūs, ī, m.	pupil.

² In these examples, the subjects are Servius, portae, and rex.

Germāniā, ae, f.	Germany.
Jūcundūs, ā, ūm.	pleasant, delightful.
Laudābilis, ē.	praiseworthy, laudable.
Mātūrūs, ā, ūm.	ripe.
Pōmūm, ī, n.	fruit.

II. Translate into English.

1. Pax¹ jucunda² est.³ 2. Pax jucunda erit. 3. Vita brevis est. 4. Cato bonus fuit. 5. Cives boni fuērunt. 6. Virtus laudabilis est. 7. Libri utiles sunt. 8. Illi libri utiles erunt. 9. Ille liber utilis fuērat. 10. Utilis⁴ fuisti. 11. Utiles fuistis. 12. Germania fertilis est. 13. Agri fertiles fuērant. 14. Pomum erudum est. 15. Poma cruda sunt. 16. Poma mātūra erunt. 17. Miles fortis est. 18. Milites fortes sunt.

III. Translate into Latin.

1. The pupil is diligent.⁵ 2. The pupils were diligent. 3. The boy is good. 4. He will be happy. 5. Good boys are happy. 6. You may be happy. 7. We might have been happy. 8. This soldier will be useful. 9. These soldiers have been useful. 10. Brave soldiers are useful. 11. You will be useful. 12. Let us be useful.

¹ Pax is the subject of est, and is therefore in the Nominative, according to Rule III.

² Jucunda is an adjective in the Nominative Singular Feminine, to agree with its noun pax, according to Rule XXXIII., page 32.

³ Est is a verb in the Indicative mood, Present tense, Third person, Singular number, and agrees with its subject pax, according to Rule XXXV., page 54.

⁴ Utilis agrees with the omitted subject tu, implied in the ending of the verb.

⁵ In translating English into Latin, the pupil is expected, in the arrangement of words, to imitate the order followed in the Latin Exercises. He will observe that the subject stands first, and the verb last. But sometimes the verb precedes one or more words in the sentence. Thus the sentence, Pax jucunda est, might be Pax est jucunda.

SUM WITH PREDICATE NOUN.

RULE I. — Predicate Nouns.

362. A Predicate Noun¹ denoting the same person or thing as its subject agrees with it in CASE :

Ego sum nuntius,¹ I am a messenger. Liv. Servius rex est dēclātātus, Servius was declared king. Liv.

MODEL FOR PARSING PREDICATE NOUNS.

Egō sūm nuntiūs, I am a messenger.

Nuntius is a noun (31) of the Second Declension, as it has i in the Genitive Singular (40); STEM, nunti. Singular; nuntius, nuntii, nuntio, nuntium, nuntie, nuntio. Plural; nuntii, nuntiōrum, nuntiis, nuntios, nuntii, nuntiūs. It is of the Masculine Gender by 45; is in the Nominative Singular, and, as a Predicate Noun, agrees in case with its subject ego, according to Rule I.: “A Predicate Noun denoting the same person or thing as its Subject agrees with it in CASE.”

346. I. A DECLARATIVE SENTENCE has the form of an assertion :

Miltiādes accūsātus est, Miltiades was accused. Nep.

II. An INTERROGATIVE SENTENCE has the form of a question :

Quis non paupertātem extimescit, Who does not fear poverty? Cic.

1. INTERROGATIVE WORDS. — Interrogative sentences generally contain some interrogative word, — either an interrogative pronoun,

¹ Every sentence consists of two distinct parts, expressed or implied :

1. The SUBJECT, or that of which it speaks.

2. The PREDICATE, or that which is said of the subject.

Thus, in the first example under the Rule, ego, I, is the subject, and sum nuntius is the predicate. When the predicate thus consists of a noun with the verb sum, or of a noun with a passive verb, the noun thus used is called a predicate noun. Accordingly, nuntius in the first example, and rex in the second, are predicate nouns.

adjective, or adverb, or one of the interrogative particles, ne, nonne, num :

1) Questions with ne ask for information : Scribitne, Is he writing ? Ne is always thus appended to some other word.

2) Questions with nonne expect the answer yes : Nonne scribit, Is he not writing ?

3) Questions with num expect the answer no : Num scribit, Is he writing ?

¹ In preparing the longer and more difficult sentences in this and in the subsequent exercises, it is recommended that the pupil should follow the Suggestions which are inserted in this volume, page 143, and which are intended to aid him in discerning the process by which he may most readily and surely reach the meaning of a Latin sentence.

² See Rule III. page 57.

³ See Rule XXXV. page 54. The verb sometimes precedes the Predicate Noun, as in this sentence; and sometimes follows it, as in several of the following sentences.

⁴ Rex is a Predicate Noun, denoting the same person as its subject Ancus, and is therefore in the Nominative, to agree with that subject in case, according to Rule I. page 59.

⁷ In this sentence, before turning to the Vocabulary for the meaning of the words, notice carefully the endings of the several words in accordance with Suggestion IV. What parts of speech do you find? What cases? What mood, tense, number, and person?

MODELS FOR PARSING REGULAR VERBS.

1. With Subject.

Vos laudāvistis, You have praised.

Laudavistis is a transitive verb (192, 193) of the First Conjugation (201), from laudo; STEM, laud. Principal Parts: laudo, laudāre, laudāvi, laudātum. Inflection of Tense: laudāvi, laudavisti, laudāvit, laudavimus, laudavistis, laudavērunt, or laudavēre. The form laudavistis is found in the Active voice, Indicative mood, Perfect tense, Second person, Plural number, and agrees with its subject vos, according to Rule XXXV.: "A Finite Verb agrees with its Subject in NUMBER and PERSON."

2. Without Subject.

Laudāvistis, You have praised.

This is parsed like laudavistis, above, except that it agrees with vos, implied in the ending istis; while laudavistis, above, agrees with vos expressed.

EXERCISE XXI.

I. Translate into English.

1. Amor, amābar, amābor. 2. Amāris, amabāris, amabēris. 3. Amātur, amantur. 4. Amabātur, amabantur.

(the stem, 203) in common; but they differ from each other in the endings, — o, ābam, ābo. In the forms amat, amant, there is a still closer resemblance: not only is the stem am common to both, but the endings have the letters at in common; or, in other words, the plural ending ant differs from the singular ending at only in inserting n: AT, ANT.

¹ Here the pupil will observe that the plural ending ābunt differs from the singular ending ābit, not only in inserting n before t, but also in changing i into u: ABIT, ABUNT.

5. Amabĭtur, amabuntur. 6. Amāmur, amabāmur, amabĭmur. 7. Amātus¹ sum, amātus eram, amātus ero. 8. Amātus es, amātus eras, amātus eris. 9. Amātus est, amāti¹ sunt. 10. Amātus erat, amāti erant. 11. I had been blamed, you had been praised. 10. I shall have been blamed, you will have been praised. 11. You may be blamed, you might be blamed. 12. He would have been blamed, they would have been praised. 13. Let him be praised, let them be praised. 14. Be thou praised, be ye praised.

¹ The learner will observe, that, when the verb and the subject (expressed or implied) are in the Singular, the participle (amātus), which forms one element of the verb, is also in the Singular; and that, when the verb and the subject are in the Plural, the participle (amāti) is also in the Plural.

The form of the participle also varies with the gender of the subject, as well as with its number. Thus, if the subject is Masculine, the participle will be amātus in the Singular, and amāti in the Plural; if Feminine, amāta in the Singular, and amātae in the Plural; and, if Neuter, amātum in the Singular, and amāta in the Plural. Thus the participle in the compound tenses (i.e., in those which are made up of the participle and the auxiliary sum) agrees with the subject in gender, number, and case, like an adjective, according to Rule XXXV. 1, note.

¹ In this Exercise, the pupil should carefully compare the corresponding forms in the two Voices, — the Active and the Passive, — and observe the difference between them. The Passive laudor differs from the Active laudo only in adding r; the Passive laudābar differs from the Active laudābam only in taking r in place of m. Thus we find, that, in the Indicative and in the Subjunctive, the first person of the Passive is formed from the first person of the Active by simply adding r; or, if the Active ends in m, by substituting r for m. Again: the Passive laudātur differs from the Active laudat only in adding ur. Thus we find, that, in the Indicative and in the Subjunctive, the third person of the Passive is formed from the third person of the Active by simply adding ur.

² Where must we look to find the meaning of these endings, — in the Vocabulary, or in the Grammar? and where to find the general meaning of the verb? See Suggestion II. To find the meaning of the verb to which laudābor belongs, for what form must we look in the Vocabulary? See Suggestion VII.

They may praise, they may be praised.

FIRST CONJUGATION — FIRST AND SECOND DECLENSIONS.¹

DIRECT OBJECT.

RULE V. — Direct Object.

379. The Direct Object² of an action is put in the Accusative.

Deus mundum aedificāvit, *God made the world.*³ Cic. Libēra rem publicam, Free the republic. Cic. Pōpūli Rōmāni sālūtem dēfendite, Defend the safety of the Roman people. Cic.

¹ It is thought advisable that the pupil should now commence a review of the grammatical forms which he has already learned. Accordingly, this Exercise will involve nouns of the First and of the Second Declension. The pupil should therefore carefully review those Declensions (42, 45). In connection with the subsequent Exercises, it is expected that the other Declensions and the other Grammatical forms will be reviewed in order, as will be indicated in the respective headings which precede the several Exercises.

² The Direct Object of an action is generally the object, person, or thing, on which the action is directly exerted; as, salūtem, safety, in the third example; defend (what?) the safety. But the Direct Object is sometimes the effect of the action, i.e. the object produced by it; as, mundum, world, in the first example, — made the world.

³ In English, the object follows the verb; thus, in this example, world follows made; but in Latin the object usually precedes the verb: thus mundum precedes aedificāvit. So also, in the third example, salūtem precedes dēfendite; but sometimes the object follows the verb: thus in the second example, rem publicam follows libēra.

MODEL FOR PARSING DIRECT OBJECTS.

Deūs mundūm aedificāvit, God made the world.

Mundum is a noun (31) of the Second Declension, as it has i in the Genitive Singular (40); STEM, mund. Singular: mundus, mundi, modo, mundum, monde, modo. Plural: mundi, mundōrum, mundis, mundos, mundi, mundis. It is of the Masculine gender, by 45; is in the Accusative Singular; and is the Direct Object of the transitive verb aedificāvit, according to Rule V.: "The Direct Object of an action is put in the Accusative."

ADVERBS.

RULE LI.—Use of Adverbs.

582. Adverbs⁴ qualify VERBS, ADJECTIVES, and other ADVERBS:

Sāpientes fēliciter⁴ vivunt, The wise live happily. Cic. Fācile⁴ doctissimus, unquestionably the most learned. Cic. Haud⁴ āliter, not o'herwise. Virg.

² The Latin word for boys in this sentence will be in the Accusative, according to Rule V., and will precede the verb.

³ The pupil should now review the Third Declension (48-54).

⁴ The Adverb is, therefore, the part of speech which is used to qualify verbs, adjectives, and other adverbs. Fēliciter, happily, is an adverb qualifying the verb vivunt, live (live happily). Fācile, easily, unquestionably, is an adverb qualifying the adjective doctissimus, the most learned (easily, i.e. unquestionably the most learned). Haud, not, is an adverb qualifying the adverb āliter, otherwise (not otherwise). The adverb in Latin usually stands directly before the word which it qualifies, as in these examples.

MODEL FOR PARSING ADVERBS.

Săpientēs felicitēr vīvunt, The wise live happily.

Felicitēr is an adverb, and qualifies vīvunt, according to Rule LI.:
“Adverbs qualify VERBS, ADJECTIVES, and other ADVERBS.”

¹ These Pronouns are all used as adjectives, and agree with their nouns like any other adjectives, according to Rule XXXIII. p. 32. Pronouns thus used as adjectives generally precede their nouns; but the Possessive Pronouns, meus, tuus, etc. (185), generally follow their nouns, as in this Exercise.

² Personal Pronouns, it will be remembered, are used as substantives (184). They are accordingly governed like any other substantives. See Rule V. p. 70. Observe that the object precedes the verb.

³ The pupil will observe that suos in the tenth sentence must be rendered his, while in the eleventh it must be rendered their. Thus the meaning of the Possessive suus depends in part upon the number of the word to which it refers. It must be rendered his (her, its) when that word, as puer in the tenth sentence, is in the Singular; but it must be rendered their when that word, as puēri in the eleventh sentence, is in the Plural.

⁴ When a verb with a direct object has also an adverb qualifying it, the usual order is Object, Adverb, Verb; but the adverb non, not, may stand either before or after the object.

¹ In this Exercise, the pupil should carefully compare the corresponding forms in the three Conjugations here represented, — the First, the Second, and the Third, — and should carefully observe the difference between them. The advantages of such a course are twofold: first, it teaches the pupil to distinguish the several Conjugations from each other, which is one of the most important lessons to be learned in the study of the language; and, secondly, it tends to form in him, thus early, the habit of close and accurate observation, the habit of marking differences and of tracing resemblances in kindred forms, which is of vital importance in the whole course of classical study.

CHAPTER I.

SYNTAX OF SENTENCES.

SECTION I.

CLASSIFICATION OF SENTENCES.

343. SYNTAX treats of the construction of sentences.

344. A sentence is thought expressed in language.

345. In their STRUCTURE, sentences are either Simple, Complex, or Compound:

I. A SIMPLE SENTENCE expresses but a single thought:

Deus mundum aedificāvit, God made the world. Cic.

II. A COMPLEX SENTENCE expresses two (or more) thoughts, so related that one is dependent upon the other:

Dōnce ēris fēlix, multos nūmērābis āmīcos; So long as you are prosperous, you will number many friends. Ovid.

1. CLAUSES. — In this example, two simple sentences, (1) “You will be prosperous,” and (2) “You will number many friends,” are so united that the first only specifies the time of the second: You will number many friends, (when?) so long as you are prosperous. The parts thus united are called Clauses or Members.

III. A COMPOUND SENTENCE expresses two or more independent thoughts:

Sol ruit, et montes umbrantur, The sun descends, and the mountains are shaded. Virg.

346. In their USE, sentences are either Declarative, Interrogative, Imperative, or Exclamatory.

I. A DECLARATIVE SENTENCE has the form of an assertion :

Miltiādes accūsātus est, Miltiades was accused. Nep.

II. An INTERROGATIVE SENTENCE has the form of a question :

Quis non paupertātem extimescit, Who does not fear poverty ? Cic.

1. INTERROGATIVE WORDS. — Interrogative sentences generally contain some interrogative word, — either an interrogative pronoun, adjective, or adverb, or one of the interrogative particles, ne, nonne, num :

1) Questions with ne ask for information : Scrībitne, Is he writing ? Ne is always thus appended to some other word.

2) Questions with nonne expect the answer yes : Nonne scrībit, Is he not writing ?

3) Questions with num expect the answer no : Num scrībit, Is he writing ?

III. An IMPERATIVE SENTENCE has the form of a command, exhortation, or entreaty :

Iustitiam cōle, Cultivate justice. Cic.

IV. An EXCLAMATORY SENTENCE has the form of an exclamation :

Rēliquit quos viros, What heroes he has left ! Cic.

SECTION II.

SIMPLE SENTENCES.

ELEMENTS OF SENTENCES.

347. The simple sentence in its most simple form consists of two distinct parts, expressed or implied :

1. The SUBJECT, or that of which it speaks.
2. The PREDICATE, or that which is said of the subject :

Cluilius mōritur, Cluilius dies. Liv.

Here Cluilius is the subject, and mōritur the predicate.

348. The simple sentence in its most expanded form consists only of these same parts with their various modifiers :

In his castris Cluilius, Albānus rex, mōritur; Cluilius, the Alban king, dies in this camp. Liv.

Here Cluilius, Albānus rex, is the subject in its enlarged or modified form, and in his castris moritur is the predicate in its enlarged or modified form.

349. PRINCIPAL AND SUBORDINATE. — The subject and predicate, being essential to the structure of every sentence, are called the Principal or Essential elements; but their modifiers, being subordinate to these, are called the Subordinate elements.

350. SIMPLE AND COMPLEX. — The elements, whether principal or subordinate, may be either simple or complex:

1. Simple, when not modified by other words.
2. Complex, when thus modified.¹

SIMPLE SUBJECT.

351. The subject of a sentence must be a noun, or some word or words used as a noun:

*Rex*² dēcrēvit, The king decreed. Nep. *Ego*² ad te scribo, I write to you. Cic.

SIMPLE PREDICATE.

353. The simple predicate must be either a verb or the copula sum with a noun or adjective:

Miltiādes est accūsātus,³ Miltiades was accused. Nep. Tu es testis, You are a witness. Cic. Fortūna caeca est, Fortune is blind. Cic.

1. Like Sum, several other verbs sometimes unite with a noun or adjective to form the predicate. A noun or adjective thus used is called a Predicate Noun or Predicate Adjective.⁴

² In these examples, the noun rex and the pronoun ego, used as a noun, are the subjects.

³ In the first of these examples, the predicate is the verb, est accusātus; in the second, the noun and copula, est testis; and in the third, the adjective and copula, caeca est.

⁴ Thus testis, in the second example, is a Predicate Noun, and caeca, in the third, is a Predicate Adjective.

CHAPTER II.

RULE I. — Predicate Nouns.¹

362. A Predicate Noun² denoting the same person or thing as its Subject agrees with it in CASE:

GENITIVE WITH ADJECTIVES.

1. FORCE OF THIS GENITIVE.—The genitive here retains its usual force, — of, in respect of, — and may be used after adjectives which admit this relation.

2. ADJECTIVES WITH THE GENITIVE.—The most common are

1) Verbals in ax, and participles in ans and ens used adjectively.

2) Adjectives denoting desire, knowledge, skill, recollection, participation, mastery, fulness, and their contraries.

EXERCISE LX.

I. Vocabulary.

loving, fond of.

Avidus, ā, ūm,

desirous of, eager for.

¹ Laudis completes the meaning of avidus; desirous (of what?) of praise. It is in the Genitive, by this Rule. In the same way, otii completes the meaning of cupidus; sui, of amans; voluptatis, of efficiens; and gloriæ, of memor.

Certāmen, certāminis, n.	contest, strife, battle.
Cūpidūs, ā, ūm,	desirous of.
Fons, fontis, m.	fountain.

SECTION VII.

ABLATIVE.

412. The Ablative in its primary meaning is closely related to the Genitive; but, in its general use, it corresponds to the English Objective with from, by, in, with, and expresses various adverbial relations. It is accordingly used with Verbs and Adjectives; while the Genitive, as the case of adjective relations, is most common with Nouns. See 393.

¹ Genitive, completing the meaning of the adjective. See Rule XVII.

² See 162.

ABLATIVE OF CAUSE, MANNER, MEANS.

RULE XXI.—Cause, Manner, Means.

414. Cause, Manner, and Means¹ are denoted by the Ablative :

Ars ūtilitāte laudātur, An art is praised because of its usefulness. Cic. Glōriā dūcitur, He is led by glory. Cic. Duōbus mōdis fit, It is done in two ways. Cic. Sol omnia lūce collustrat, The sun illumines all things with its light. Cic. Apri dentibus se tūtantur, Boars defend themselves with their tusks. Cic. Aeger ērat vulneribus, He was ill in consequence of his wounds. Nep. Laetus sorte tua, Pleased with your lot. Hor.

1. APPLICATION OF RULE.—This Ablative is of very frequent occurrence, and is used both with verbs and adjectives.

2. ABLATIVE OF CAUSE.—This designates that by which, by reason of which, because of which, in accordance with which, any thing is or is done.

3. ABLATIVE OF MANNER.—This Ablative is regularly accompanied by some modifier, or by the preposition cum ; but a few ablatives, chiefly those signifying manner, — mōre, ordīne, rātiōne, etc., — occur without such accompaniment :

Vi summa, With the greatest violence. Nep. Mōre Persārum, In the manner of the Persians. Nep. Cum silentio audire, To hear in silence. Liv. Id ordīne facere, To do it in order, or properly. Cic.

¹ It is not always possible to distinguish between Cause, Manner, and Means. Sometimes the same Ablative may involve both Cause and Means, or both Means and Manner. Still the pupil should be taught to determine in each instance, as far as possible, what is the real force of the Ablative. Thus in the examples, utilitāte denotes cause, because of its usefulness ; gloriā, means, with perhaps the accessory notion of cause ; modis, manner ; luce, means ; dentibus, means ; vulneribus, cause, with perhaps the accessory notion of means ; and sorte, cause and means.

4. ABLATIVE OF MEANS. — This includes the Instrument and all other Means employed.

5. ABLATIVE OF AGENT. — This designates the Person by whom any thing is done as a voluntary agent, and takes the preposition a or ab:

Occisus est a Thēbānis, *He was slain by the Thebans.*¹ Nep.

Triumphō, ārē, āvī, ātūm,	to triumph.

¹ By comparing this example with those under the Rule, the second for instance, it will be seen that the Latin construction distinguishes the person by whom any thing is done from the means by which it is done, designating the former by the Ablative with a or ab (a Thēbānis, by the Thebans), and the latter by the Ablative without a preposition; gloriā, by glory.

² Ablative of Cause, according to Rule XXI.

³ Ablative of Means.

⁴ Ablative of Manner.

⁴ Quam is a conjunction, meaning than. Conjunctions are mere connectives, used to connect words or clauses.

⁵ Agris and urbi, the one before and the other after quam, are both in the same construction, in the Dative, depending upon terribilior according to Rule XIV. 391.

SUGGESTIONS TO THE LEARNER.

I. THE preparation of a Reading Lesson in Latin involves,

1. A knowledge of the Meaning of the Latin.
2. A knowledge of the Structure of the Latin Sentences.
3. A translation into English.

MEANING OF THE LATIN.

II. Remember that almost every inflected word in a Latin sentence requires the use of both the Dictionary and the Grammar to ascertain its meaning.

The Dictionary gives the meaning of the word, without reference to its Grammatical properties of case, number, mood, tense, etc.; and the Grammar, the meaning of the endings which mark these properties. The Dictionary will give the meaning of mensa, a table, but not of mensarum, of tables: the Grammar alone will give the force of the ending arum.

III. Make yourself so familiar with all the endings of inflection, with their exact form and force, whether in declension or conjugation, that you will not only readily distinguish the different parts of speech from each other, but also the different forms of the same word, with their exact and distinctive force.

IV. In taking up a Latin sentence,

1. Notice carefully the endings of the several words, and thus determine which words are nouns, which verbs, etc.
2. Observe the force of each ending, and thus determine case, number, voice, mood, tense, etc.

This will be found to be a very important step toward the mastery of the sentence. By this means, you will discover not only the relation of the words to each other, but also an important part of their meaning,—that which they derive from their endings.

V. The key to the meaning of any simple sentence (345, I.) will be found in the simple subject and predicate; i.e., in the Nominative and its Verb. Hence, in looking out the sentence, observe the following order. Take

1. The Subject, or Nominative.

The ending will, in most instances, enable you to distinguish this from all other words, except the adjectives which agree with it. These may be looked out at the same time with the subject.

Sometimes the subject is not expressed, but only implied, in the ending of the verb. It may then be readily supplied, as it is always a pronoun of such person and number as the verb indicates: as, audio, I hear, the ending io showing that the subject is ego; auditis, you hear, the ending itis showing that the subject is vos.

2. The Verb, with Predicate Noun or Adjective, if any.

This will be readily known by the ending. Now, combining this with the Subject, you will have an outline of the sentence. All the other words must now be associated with these two parts.

3. The Modifiers of the Subject; i.e., adjectives agreeing with it, nominatives in apposition with it, genitives dependent upon it, etc.

But perhaps some of these have already been looked out in the attempt to ascertain the subject.

In looking out these words, bear in mind the meaning of the subject to which they belong. This will greatly aid you in selecting from the dictionary the true meaning in the passage before you.

4. The Modifiers of the Verb, i.e. (1) Oblique cases, accusatives, datives, etc., dependent upon it, and (2) Adverbs qualifying it.

Bear in mind all the while the force of the case and the meaning of the verb, that you may be able to select for each word the true meaning in the passage before you.

VI. In complex and compound sentences (345, II., III.), discover first the connectives which unite the several members, and then proceed with each member as with a simple sentence.

VII. In the use of Dictionary and Vocabulary, remember that you are not to look for the particular form which occurs in the sentence, but for the Nom. Sing. of nouns, adjectives, and pronouns, and for the First Pers. Sing. Pres. Indic. Act. of verbs. Therefore,

1. In Pronouns, make yourself so familiar with their declension, that any oblique case will at once suggest the Nom. Sing.

If vobis occurs, you must remember that the Nom. Sing. is tu.

2. In Nouns and Adjectives, make yourself so familiar with the case-endings, that you will be able to drop that of the given case, and substitute for it that of the Nom. Sing.

Thus mensibus; stem mens, Nom. Sing. mensis, which you will find in the Vocabulary. So urbem, urb, urbs.

3. In Verbs, change the ending of the given form into that of the First Pers. Sing. of the Pres. Indic. Act.

Thus amābat; stem am, First Pers. Sing. Pres. Indic. Act. amo, which you will find in the Vocabulary. So amavērunt; First Pers. Perf. amāvi, Perf. stem amav, Verb stem am; amo.

To illustrate the steps recommended in the preceding suggestions, we add the following

Model.

VIII. Themistōcles imperātor servitūte totam Graeciam liberāvit.

1. Without knowing the meaning of the words, you will discover from their forms,

1) That Themistōcles and imperātor are probably nouns in the Nom. Sing.

2) That servitūte is a noun in the Abl. Sing.

3) That totam and Graeciam are either nouns or adjectives in the Accus. Sing.

4) That liberāvit is a verb in the Act. voice, Indic. mood, Perf. tense, Third Person, Singular number.

2. Now, turning to the Vocabulary for the meaning of the words, you will learn,

1) That Themistōcles is the name of an eminent Athenian general: THEMISTOCLES.

2) That libēro, for which you must look, not for liberāvit, means to liberate: LIBERATED.

Themistocles liberated.

3) That imperātor means commander: THE COMMANDER.

Themistocles the commander liberated.

4) That Graeciam is the name of a country: GREECE.

Themistocles the commander liberated Greece.

5) That totus means the whole, all: ALL.

Themistocles the commander liberated all Greece.

6) That servītus means servitude: FROM SERVITUDE.

Themistocles the commander liberated all Greece from servitude.

STRUCTURE OF THE LATIN SENTENCE.

IX. The structure of a sentence is best shown by *analyzing*¹ it, and by parsing the words which compose it.

Parsing.

XVII.² In parsing a word,

1. Name the Part of Speech to which it belongs.
2. Inflect³ it, if capable of inflection.
3. Give its gender, number, case, voice, mood, tense, person, etc.⁴
4. Give its Syntax, and the Rule for it.⁵

TRANSLATION.

XIX. In translating, render as literally as possible without doing violence to the English.

¹ It has not been thought advisable to enter upon the subject of analysis at this early stage of the course. That will be presented in the Reader, which follows this work.

² These suggestions are taken, without change, from the Reader. Accordingly, the numerals are made to correspond to those in that work.

³ Inflect; i.e., decline, compare, or conjugate.

⁴ That is, such of these properties as it possesses.

⁵ For Models for Parsing, see pp. 16, 22, 24, 33, 55, 57, 59, 66, 71, and 73.

Harkness's Latin Grammar.

From Rev. Prof. J. J. OWEN, D.D., New York Free Academy.

"I have carefully examined Harkness's Latin Grammar, and am so well pleased with its plan, arrangement, and execution, that I shall take the earliest opportunity of introducing it as a text-book in the Free Academy."

From Mr. JOHN D. PHILBRIK, Superintendent of Public Schools, Boston, Mass.

"This work is evidently no hasty performance, nor the compilation of a mere book-maker, but the well-ripened fruit of mature and accurate scholarship. It is eminently practical, because it is truly philosophical."

From Mr. G. N. BIGELOW, Principal of State Normal School, Framingham, Mass.

"Harkness's Latin Grammar is the most satisfactory text-book I have ever used."

From Rev. DANIEL LEACH, Superintendent Public Schools, Providence, R. I.

"I am quite confident that it is superior to any Latin Grammar before the public. It has recently been introduced into the High School, and all are much pleased with it."

From Dr. J. B. CHAPIN, State Commissioner of Public Instruction in Rhode Island.

"The vital principles of the language are clearly and beautifully exhibited. The work needs no one's commendation."

From Mr. ABNER J. PHIPPS, Superintendent of Public Schools, Lowell, Mass.

"The aim of the author seems to be fully realized in making this 'a useful Book, and as such I can cheerfully commend it. The clear and admirable manner in which the intricacies of the Subjunctive Mood are unfolded, is one of its marked features."

"The evidence of ripe scholarship and of familiarity with the latest works of German and English philologists is manifest throughout the book."

From Dr. J. T. CHAMPLIN, President of Waterville College.

"I like both the plan and the execution of the work very much. Its matter and manner are both admirable. I shall be greatly disappointed if it does not at once win the public favor."

From Prof. A. S. PACKARD, Bowdoin College, Brunswick, Maine.

"Harkness's Latin Grammar exhibits throughout the results of thorough scholarship. I shall recommend it in our next catalogue."

From Prof. J. J. STANTON, Bates College.

"We have introduced Harkness's Grammar into this Institution. It is much more logical and concise than any of its rivals."

From Mr. WM. J. ROLFE, Principal Cambridge High School.

"Notwithstanding all the inconveniences that must attend a change of Latin Grammars in a large school like mine, I shall endeavor to secure the adoption of Harkness's Grammar in place of our present text-book as soon as possible."

From Mr. L. R. WILLISTON, Principal Ladies' Seminary, Cambridge, Mass.

"I think this work a decided advance upon the Grammar now in use."

From Mr. D. B. HAGER, Princ. Eliot High School, Jamaica Plain, Mass.

"This is, in my opinion, by far the best Latin Grammar ever published. It is admirably adapted to the use of learners, being remarkably concise, clear, comprehensive, and philosophical. It will henceforth be used as a text-book in this school."

Harkness's Latin Grammar.

From Prof. C. S. HARRINGTON and Prof. J. C. VAN BENSCHOTEN, of the Wesleyan University.

"This work is clear, accurate, and happy in its statement of principles, is simple yet scholarly, and embraces the latest researches in this department of philological science. It will appear in our catalogue."

From Mr. ELBRIDGE SMITH, Principal Free Academy, Norwich, Ct.

"This is not only the best Latin Grammar, but one of the most thoroughly prepared school-books that I have ever seen. I have introduced the book into the Free Academy, and am much pleased with the results of a month's experience in the class-room."

From Mr. H. A. PRATT, Principal High School, Hartford, Ct.

"I can heartily recommend Harkness's new work to both teachers and scholars. It is, in my judgment, the best Latin Grammar ever offered to our schools."

From Mr. I. F. CADY, Principal High School, Warren, R. I.

"The longer I use Harkness's Grammar the more fully am I convinced of its superior excellence. Its merits must secure its adoption wherever it becomes known."

From Messrs. S. THURBER and T. B. STOCKWELL, Public High School, Providence.

"An experience of several weeks with Harkness's Latin Grammar, enables us to say with confidence, that it is an improvement on our former text-book."

From Mr. C. B. GOFF, Principal Boys' Classical High School, Providence, R. I.

"The practical working of Harkness's Grammar is gratifying even beyond my expectations."

From Rev. Prof. M. H. BUCKHAM, University of Vermont.

"Harkness's Latin Grammar seems to me to supply the desideratum. It is philosophical in its method, and yet simple and clear in its statements; and this, in my judgment, is the highest encomium which can be bestowed on a text-book."

From Mr. E. T. QUIMBY, Appleton Academy, New Ipswich, N. H.

"I think the book much superior to any other I have seen. I should be glad to introduce it at once."

From Mr. H. ORCUTT, Glenwood Ladies' Seminary, W. Brattleboro', Vt.

"I am pleased with Harkness's Latin Grammar, and have already introduced it into this seminary."

From Mr. CHARLES JEWETT, Principal of Franklin Academy.

"I deem it an admirable work, and think it will supersede all others now in use. In the division and arrangement of topics, and in its mechanical execution, it is superior to any Latin Grammar extant."

From Mr. C. C. CHASE, Principal of Lowell High School.

"Prof. Harkness's Grammar is, in my opinion, admirably adapted to make the study of the Latin language agreeable and interesting."

From Mr. J. KIMBALL, High School, Dorchester, Mass.

"It meets my ideal of what is desirable in every grammar, to wit: compression of general principles in terse definitions and statements, for ready use; and fulness of detail, well arranged for reference."
